DO NOT call to report power outages as we are aware and all units from the utility crews are out. If you have flames in the power lines call, but otherwise they are aware.

Wearing Face Covers

The county and the state now recommend that you cover your nose and mouth when leaving your home for essential travel to the grocery store, doctor, or pharmacy. Safety cover your face with a bandana or homemade, cotton face covering, wearing hospital grade masks for health care workers and those who are sick.

Studies indicate that there is no reason to not use a face covering as a precaution and wearing something over your nose and mouth can provide an additional layer of protection for those who must go out.
